BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

Submits for early orders of Govt Resolution 4 of the Committee passed in their meeting held on 31-1-14 re payments of fees to medical officers examining Candidates for insurance.

NOTES AND ORDERS.

This is a long standing question. It first came up in 1892. The Senior Surgeon recommended some remuneration to medical officers on account of extra work which devolved on them (then newly in examining proposals for State Insurance. Sir Shahdri Iyer has pleased to note on the occasion 'Every body else does work without a fee including Computer & Secretary etc. Hereafter work light, only nun admissions'. Accordingly this was intimated to the Senior Surgeon, besides his attention being directed to section 60 (note 4 & (a)) of the Dr. S. R.

2) This article states that a public officer has no claim for additional remuneration whether the services rendered are such as would ordinarily be paid for from the General Revenues or a Local fund. At present the Insurance fund forms part of the cash balances of the State

3) It should be remembered that this claim for fees was urged at the inception of the Scheme when exam^n for insurance was an add^l duty imposed on medical officers, & their ~~work~~ service

4) In Dec 1908 the question again came up for reconsideration mainly on the analogy of payments made to medical men in the Postal Insurance in B India. The two Schemes are not similar. Postal insurance is not a condition of service as our scheme is, on all entrants into service, medical men inclusive. The Surgeons Scheme is more in the nature of an supplement to pension ~~insurance~~ ~~scheme~~ of such servants after retirement with a view to their comfortable living - or as a provision to their family in case of premature death. With this object in view in the interest of all the Govt employees, cheap working was contemplated from the beginning & is being carried out. The Subject was ~~[illegible]~~ deeply gone into by the Asstt Surg & the Financial Secretary on this occasion. The Asstt Surg was of opinion that if the misapprehension that a separate fund independent of work existed & that work connected with it was not for work was once removed these claims would cease to be urged. The Financial Secretary after due consideration of the work entailed on medical officers in examining candidates for insurance & also taking into acct the relief obtained by this ordinary duties by the creation of a separate sanitary Deptt was of opinion that the Insurance fund should pay fees for detailed Examn of a person whom the Medical officer would not otherwise have to examine as part of his duty. The question was however shelved for the time being as the Dewan was not for considering any increase of

5) In reviewing the Actuary's report on the position of the fund as it stood on 30th June 1907 Govt considered that the question of the grant of fees to Judicial officers was of more urgency than of sanctioning any reversionary increment to the Members - though the latter was specifically recommended by the Actuary - & the Committee was advised to take up the subject & recommend proposals at an early date.

6) Meanwhile the Senior Surgeon sent a reminder about his proposal made in Dec 1908 & which was shelved & the Insurance Committee resolved that considering the slender resources of the fund the question be relegated till after the next Valuation.

7) In considering the above resolution the Asst Secy was emphatically against the proposal of fees to the Judicial officers. The founders of the Scheme did not contemplate

The H Secy agreed in this View - The Dewan (the Hon'ble Rao) recommended 2 Rs for every detailed exam. The First Councillor Mr. Pattabiraman Chetty while recognising numerous exams as part of their duties held that it was necessary to reconcile the medical officers to their extra duty & supported the Dewan accordingly. The Second Councillor Mr Rangachariar however noted:- 'if the principle of payment is introduced I am not sure that it will stop long here

The members of the Committee, the Comptr & the Asstt Comptr have been working gratis & if medical officers are paid I do not see why these also should not also be paid! Most of the medical officers now in service began when the practice of examining without fees was already in vogue. With them it is a legitimate part of their duties for pay! ..... Eventually the question was dropped as the present condition of the Assam fund does not admit of fees being paid to medical officers & that it will be considered when the next valuation is made!

8) It is thus seen that opinion was very much divided on this momentous question in the past.

9) The present proposal of the Committee stated to work for such extra as pay seems necessary is for a payment of Rs 3 as fee

This resolution has not had the unanimous support of the Committee - In all 9 members were present inclusive of the President. & it is stated that only 4 members voted for the mild & modest proposal - one voted against - the President waived his vote & the rest were apparently neutral - which would go to show that opinion is as much divided now on the subject as in the past.

Financial difficulty cannot therefore be urged at the present occasion. Besides the cost to be incurred could only be a trifle as it is proposed to pay only for further & optional insurance detailed examinations. Therefore if the proposal is sanctioned it would not afford the relief sought for by Medical officers & would only result in giving up the principle hitherto being faithfully followed - that the services of such servants concerned with the administration of the fund should be gratuitous.

I beg respectfully to differ from the resolution of the Council in this matter.

At present the Insurance Office is practically being worked as a Govt. department and all departments of Govt. whose help is required in working the scheme are giving such help free. To consider the case of one of these departments individually and pass an isolated order would not be fair to the other departments & would not lead to a sound and logical situation.

The Insurance office establishment is very poorly paid and if the recurring charges of the Govt Insurance Deptt are to be increased, the claims of the staff are the strongest[×]. The Doctors are fairly well-paid and as the scheme is a compulsory one applicable to Govt servants generally the duty of medical exn in connection therewith may be regarded as part of the legitimate duties of the Govt medical offrs.

The P.W.D. may claim rent for accommodation supplied to the Insurance offrs, the Stationery & Printing department may demand payment for supplies and services, Members may require payment per sitting, the Jt Secy, the Secy and even the President may have to be paid for extra work done. There is something to be said in favour of the proposition that, as a pro forma account is kept for the Insurance Scheme, the account should be a complete one as far as possible and all legitimate charges should be shewn in it. The scheme should bear all legitimate costs and the real financial result worked out on a commercial basis. At present the result shewn is not accurate because there is a considerable amount of State aid not brought into account.

If this view is accepted then the Committee may be requested to report (1) as to how far they are prepared to accept the principle of making payts for supplies & services received from Govt depts, (2) what sum will be available for such payts after their requirements for Establt &c is fully met and (3) how the available surplus should be distributed amongst the several departments.

My humble suggestion therefore is that either things may be left as they are, or, if the Medical officers are to be paid, the question may be considered in its broader aspects and the claims of all departments & of the Insurance Establt itself may be all considered together with reference to the financial position of the fund. Para 13 of the Secretary's report of August 1913 shows that some amount may be considered as available for meeting such claims, but to admit the Doctors' claims without a comprehensive review of the situation will not in my opinion be financially sound or just ~~or necessary~~ from the administrative standpoint.

INSURANCE.

In accordance with the Resolution of the Committee dated 23rd November 1911 and Government Order No: Fl:6010/B:35-10-4 dated 12th June 1911, the question of payment of fees to the Medical Officers who examine proposers for Insurance is submitted for consideration in connection with the Report of the Actuary for the quinquennium ending -- 1912 June, which is at present engaging the attention of the Committee.

The Actuary provides for an expenditure of 5% of the premium income after amply providing for all risks and future profits, and taking into consideration the present flourishing condition and the quite -- hopeful forecast for the future, of the Fund, there is ample scope for a very favourable consideration of this question.

From the papers submitted herewith, it will be seen that the Committee are generally in favour of granting the Medical Officers some fee for their work, that the fee should be confined, at any rate for -- the present, to detailed Medical Examinations for further insurance -- and it should be four rupees, as in the British Postal Life Insurance Scheme. The appended statement based on the average for the past 5 years would show the number of monthly examinations for first and further insurance and their cost computed in several ways. If paid for all first detailed Medical Examinations at Rs 4/-, the monthly cost -- would come to about Rs 272/-. If paid for further detailed and ordinary examination at the rate of Rs 3/- for the detailed and Re 1/- for the ordinary, the cost would amount to about Rs 112/- and to -- about Rs 116/- if paid only for the further detailed examinations.

In the course of discussion of the question on the last occasion it was argued that as the first examination for insurance is generally associated with the examination of the candidate for entry into the -- Service, it does not involve very much extra labour on the Medical Officers as in the case of examinations for further insurance. It may therefore be submitted that payments may be made for these further -- examinations either for the detailed only or the detailed and the ordinary. The charge as above pointed out will be quite within the power

It was last considered in the year 1911, when the Insurance Committee preferred to postpone its consideration till after another Actuarial valuation had been made.

2. The recent report of the Actuary on the finances of the State Life Insurance fund as on 30th June 1912, being favourable, the Insurance Committee resolved, at the meeting of the 30th January 1914, that the memorandum relating to the question be submitted to Government for such orders as may be deemed necessary, the fee to be paid for a detailed medical examination for further or optional insurance only and to be fixed at Rs. 3.

3. The Insurance Fund being found to be in a flourishing condition Government consider it only fair to remunerate the Medical Officers to a limited extent and they are accordingly pleased to approve of the recommendation of the Committee and direct the payment in future of a fee of Rs. 3 to Medical Officers for each detailed examination of proposers for further or optional insurance.
